ROBOT PREPOSITION POSTERS

Simply print off the posters you wish to use and place them where they can be clearly seen for a useful reference.

Or slide the pages into a folder to create a prepositions book. Choose to print on smaller paper to make smaller individual books or colouring pages.

I hope you and your children enjoy using these posters and I wish you happy teaching and learning!

A title page for a worksheet titled "Positional Words and Sentences". The title is written in large, orange, bubbly letters. Below it, the subtitle "Australian Food and Animals" is also in orange. There are three sections indicated by arrows pointing to boxes: "STUDENT BOOKS & ACTIVITIES", "WORD WALL CARDS", and "POSTERS". Below these sections are three boxes containing illustrations: a meat pie labeled "Put a meat pie in front of a kangaroo", a koala labeled "in front of", and a kangaroo labeled "kangaroo". At the bottom, the author's name "by Elizabeth Hah" is written.
